

HALLOWEEN'S STORY

Once upon a time in Constantina, at the beginning of the year 2012-2013, IES San Fernando renewed its staff.

There was a disturbing teacher. She gave chills. She was short and fat. Her hair was white and dishevelled. She had got a wart next to her pointed nose. Her hands were skeletal and she had got very long nails.

She was a teacher of philosophy but she looked like a teacher of spells and curses. Many students were injured. But people didn't think it was because of her spells.

On the morning of October 31st, students arrived in the classroom and they found a hanged child.

The police investigated but they didn't find evidence that it was murder.

Later, the maths teacher appeared dead bathed in his own blood. There was also a message on the board: "One by one you will have the same ending if you don't leave my town". Then it was discovered that the philosophy teacher was a witch. Constantina was dominated by the witches. The population fled the town.
